Marines and Sailor Committed to Jail in Cockade City.

BOX CAR BURNED ON SIDING

Mayor Announces That He Will Fine All Carriers of Concealed Weapons.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) PETERSBURG, VA., Dec. 28.—Barl W. Kenyon, a blue jacket, and H. E. Manly and J. A. Shipman, marines, are under arrest here and were committed for five days by the Mayor this morning. They will be held for the United States naval authorities.

A pretty Christmas tree entertainment was given at the Matinee Methodist Church to the members of the Sunday school yesterday. The church was prettily decorated with candles, palms and evergreens. An enjoyable and appropriate programme of music and recitations, prepared by Mrs. Maud Harrison, was rendered.

Mr. Herbert J. Tucker, of Petersburg, and Miss Ida May Miles, daughter of Mr. J. H. Miles, of Warrenton, N. C., were married at the home of the bride's father in Warrenton. The groom is a well-known young man in the employ of the M. Levy Furniture Company. The young couple are now on their bridal tour.

A box car on the Atlantic Coast Line which connects the belt line with the track of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, near the head of Washington Street, was burned last evening. There were several flat cars loaded with lumber on the siding, but these did not take fire. How the box car became ignited is not known.

The body of Mr. Thomas J. Kenney, who died yesterday in Norfolk, will reach this city to-morrow morning, and will be taken to the Catholic Cemetery for interment.

MARRIED SECOND TIME.

The Town Sergeant of Jonesville Takes no Chances.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) JONESVILLE, VA., Dec. 28.—The popular and good-natured sergeant of the town of Jonesville, Christmas Eve, was married to Miss Sally, daughter of Mr. Ahart Sally, of near Jonesville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Graham, cousin to the bride. That same gentleman was again married to that same young lady Christmas morning, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Carter, president of Jonesville Institute.

B. M. Morgan, clerk of the County Court for Lee county, issued the wedding December 22d, and after the wedding Christmas Eve Mr. Morgan received a copy of the recent act of the Legislature, requiring that all the licenses for marriage be issued by the Circuit Court clerk, but the letter came too late to notify Mr. Hall that the county clerk could issue no more marriage licenses. Mr. Hall was informed of the matter, and promptly secured another license from the Circuit Court clerk, and was re-married to his bride.

There are seven other licenses issued by Mr. Morgan since the act in question took effect to parties at distant parts of the county, and it is supposed there will be seven other remarriages to take place in Lee county.

MURDERER CAPTURED.

Played Banjo for Dance While Dressed in Victim's Clothes.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ANHERST, VA., Dec. 28.—The negro, Len Clark, who brutally murdered and robbed Floyd Morris, near Perch, Christmas eve, was captured yesterday near Sandhight postoffice, and brought to jail here to-day. The murderer confessed his crime to Constable Carter.

He struck Floyd Morris four licks in the head with an axe, then dragged his body some distance from the road, stripped him of all his money and clothes, which were comparatively new, then took off his old rags, laid them down by the side of his victim and dressed himself with the new clothes taken from the murdered man, all of which he wore at the time he was captured, including the hat, in which there was a long gash made by a blow from the axe.

Clark went across the country about fifteen miles to the Forks of Buffalo, secured some whiskey and went to a negro dance that night and made music on a banjo for the crowd to dance by. The only reason given for committing the crime is that he was drunk and did not know what he was doing at the time. A colored school teacher to whom this boy went to school, saw the murderer here in jail to-day and reminded him of what he had often said to him when at school—that he would come to the gallows if he did not mend his ways.

FULLY RECOGNIZED.

Action of Interest to Members of Military Telegraph Corps.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 28.—The Secretary of the Army of the Columbia headquarters in Washington, by unanimous action of its officers and its Executive Committee, has taken action of great interest to the survivors of the United States military telegraph corps of the civil war, among whom are such prominent gentlemen as General Thomas T. Eckert, late president of the Western Union; Colonel R. C. Clowry, president of the Western Union; Colonel L. C. Weir, president of the Adams Express Company, and several hundred gentlemen holding high executive positions throughout the country, with both telegraph companies, with leading railroads and with many of the most powerful firms.

The society has always admitted both officers and private soldiers to membership. It is now acting favorably upon an application for admission from a member of the Military Telegraph Corps, and he has been duly received. The decision was based upon the position taken by General Sherman when at the head of the army that "they were as much a part of the army as though armed with muskets in the ranks," and upon the fact that both General Thomas, commanding the army of the Columbia, and General McPherson, commanding the army of Tennessee, prescribe a uniform for members of the corps in all respects similar to that of commissioned officers, except the shoulder straps.

TERRIFIC STORM.

Boats Weather It With Difficulty at Cape Charles.

CAPE CHARLES, VA., Dec. 28.—The Dolphin, a fish steamer, belonging to Sterling Bros., was blown dangerously near the jetty or government breakwater Saturday morning and for two hours it looked as if the boat were doomed to go pieces on the rocks, but the anchor held and she was finally gotten under way and brought safely into port. The large New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railway steamer New York, from Norfolk, was nearly an hour late in reaching her dock here, and she also had a rough trip battling with the gale and mountainous seas which at times swept over her.

The tug Griffin, coming in with barge No. 2, had to signal for assistance when just outside the entrance to the harbor, and with the aid of the tug Delmar, finally got in safely.

REDISTRICTING.

Judge Duke Speaks for Liquor and Prof. Mitchell Against It.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ROANOKE, VA., Dec. 28.—The ordinance committee has at last gotten a compromise ordinance which meets with the approval of the entire Council and the Mayor, who has vetoed four ordinances. The compromise ordinance provides that the first and fourth.

Judge R. T. W. Duke, of Charlottesville, addressed a large audience at the Academy of Music to-night in opposition to local option.

Professor S. C. Mitchell, of Richmond, president of the Anti-Saloon League, addressed a large crowd at Assembly Hall.

FIRE IN PRINCESS ANNE.

The Store of D. J. Craft & Son Burned, With Contents.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) HILLSBORO, VA., Dec. 28.—The store of D. J. Craft & Son was destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Craft & Son were in the general merchandise business. One of the firm was postmaster for Pleasant Ridge Postoffice, which was the name of their place of business.

Nothing was saved. Their entire stock, together with all uncollected mail and stamps, was lost.

There was no insurance carried on either store or stock and the loss to the firm will be several thousand dollars.

A YACHT ON FLAT CARS

John Burton, of Irvington, Mate of a Schooner, Washed From Deck and Drowned.

FIVE THOUSAND FOR ABUSE

Because of Dissension Among Firemen in Berkley, Property Worth $4,000 Burned.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., Dec. 28.—The fifty foot schooner yacht Zeta, owned by Roger Upton, of Marblehead, Mass., arrived here to-day on two flat cars, from which she was launched upon her arrival by the Merritt Wrecking Company. The fine vessel was caught in the ice in the Delaware and Raritan Canal and was lifted out to save her.

Because he called W. R. Fentress a "low down dirty hound," John Core, will have to defend a suit for $5,000 damages brought against him by Fentress. In the Court of Law and Chancery to-day these words were held to be actionable, and technical demurrer of the defense was set aside. The case will be tried on its merits.

It is alleged that because of dissension in the Berkley Fire Department, this morning no response was made to an alarm. Some $4,000 of property was destroyed. The colored occupants of the houses burned, lost all they had. An investigation of the action of the Fire Department will likely be made by the Central Labor Union will to-morrow present to the owners of the Norfolk silk mills a proposition for arbitrating the present strike of the operatives of the mills. It is believed that the company may possibly consider the proposition now, the strike having continued unbroken for more than two weeks.

LONGSHOREMEN ORGANIZE.

The hundreds of longshoremen engaged in the coast wise and foreign shipping industry in Virginia have organized under a charter granted by the Corporation Commission, Sick and distressed members and their widows and orphans will be cared for.

MATE DROWNED.

John Burton, of Irvington, Va., mate of the schooner Colombia, which arrived here to-day, was washed from the vessel's deck by a huge sea Saturday, and lost a few miles north of Hog Island. The colored cook was almost frozen to death.

The Colombia, commanded by George W. Hudson, left Wachapreague Saturday loaded with oysters for Norfolk. Just before reaching Hog Island, she encountered a blizzard that turned day to night, and swept seas over her. Burton was on deck at the time and was swept overboard and beyond rescue.

The Colombia anchored off Hog Island and rode the gale until to-day. Her crew suffered terribly from cold, and were without food all of Sunday. The cook is in a hospital here, and amputation of frozen limbs may be necessary.

Arthur Lee, alias Charles Lee, was sentenced to ten years in State's prison at Halifax, Va., to-day for derailing the Southern Railway's train, No. 3, at Milton Station, November 1st.

Lee was captured while removing rails from the Southern's tracks at Jefferies Junction December 12th. For this attempt he received a five year sentence. The negro's scheme was to wreck a train near a station and in the confusion following rob the cars.

TO LAUNCH CHARLESTON.

Story of Murder on British Steamer a Sailor's Yarn.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEWPORT NEWS, VA., Dec. 28.—It was unofficially announced here to-day that the cruiser Charleston will be launched January 23d. The Department has already confirmed this date, and the name of the sponsor has been announced. A large crowd of South Carolina people are expected to visit the city to witness the launching.

Thomas Moore, the battle forman who was accused by James Harry Martin, a cattleman of murdering Elgin Fritzelin on the British steamer Potomac, on the night of November 18th, off the banks of New Foundland, walked into the police station last night and offered to give himself up. The police had not been asked to arrest him and Moore was not taken into custody.

Martin told his story to Captain Leary, of the Southwest police precinct, Baltimore, and he has since admitted that he was "spinning a yarn."

WILL JAMESTOWN FAIL.

Four More Days in Which to Raise Much Money.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., Dec. 28.—"The Jamestown Exposition will not be allowed to fail for the lack of anything like $100,000," said a member of the Exposition Company's management this morning. "If the people of Tidewater do not bring the amount somewhere within the limit here set, however, I fear that the plan is doomed."

The plan is entirely up to the people of this section of the country to say whether they want the exposition or not. If they do not, they will fail to reduce the present deficit in the next four days. If they do want it, they will reduce the remaining amount of material that the balance can be taken care of."

This appears to be about the situation and the action of the Board of Directors of the Exposition Company, in withdrawing their request to the Legislature for an extension of time, apparently makes it sure that they have determined to "put it up to" the people of this section to decide whether they will rally to the support of the exposition or not.

The Portsmouth Business Men's Association held a special meeting this evening in behalf of the exposition.

MAIL CARRIER MISSING.

Searching Parties Out and Foul Play Expected.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) COMORN, VA., December 28.—Mr. Andrew Burchell, the mail carrier on the route from Fredericksburg to Hampstead, has been missing since Saturday. He left this county early Saturday morning, carrying the mail to Fredericksburg, as usual, and when he didn't return to Osso Postoffice, near here, at the usual hour that evening no uneasiness was felt. It was only supposed that he was delayed by bad roads.

The offices along the route were kept open until midnight to receive the mail, but the entire night passed without any tidings from him. Early Sunday morning men started in search of the missing mail carrier, but each returned without information concerning him. Parties started to Fredericksburg this morning in the hope of finding him. Great uneasiness is felt to-day. It is feared that Mr. Burchell has been foully dealt with. Mr. Burchell is a thrifty, enterprising young man, and has long enjoyed the distinction of being one of the most reliable and punctual mail carriers in the service here.

Up to noon to-day there had been no mail service on the Hampstead route since Friday night.

Ice is forming rapidly on the Potomac River, and several Washingtonians visiting here are hurrying to the landings to-day in an endeavor to get home before the river freezes up.

CHRISTMAS CUTTING.

One Man in Jail as Result of Serious Fight.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) STAUNTON, VA., Dec. 28.—Charles Drumheller is in jail here awaiting trial, charged with murderously assaulting and cutting Charles G. Jackson, at Craigsville, this county, Christmas day, and also with having cut seriously L. A. Bussard, Jackson and Bussard first got in some dispute over some meat that Jackson was selling, whereupon Jackson knocked Bussard down; then it seems that Jackson struck Jackson with a store. Jackson jumped to his feet and started for Drumheller, who drew his knife and cut Jackson several times about the face and neck. It seems that Bussard then ran in and was out right badly. Jackson is in a serious condition.

LOCAL-OPTION ELECTION.

The Drys Are Confident of Success in Williamsburg.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WILLIAMSBURG, VA., Dec. 28.—The election to be held to-morrow for the purpose of deciding whether Williamsburg shall remain a dry town or have bar-rooms, promises to be rather quiet. The fight has been remarkably free from the bitterness which sometimes characterizes local option campaigns. The wets have not shown much activity, and the drys are confident of victory.

Mr. Hans Kesselberg, Williamsburg's photographer, has given up his business here and will leave Wednesday for Wilkesbarre, Pa., where he has accepted a position with the International Correspondence School, of Scranton, Pa.

Mills—Mills.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FIFE, VA., Dec. 28.—Mizpah Disciple Church at this place was the scene of a beautiful marriage Wednesday afternoon the contracting parties being Mr. R. L. Hill and Miss Elsie Childe. Both of the bride and groom are natives of Williamsburg county. The bride party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, rendered by Miss Mary Pitts.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. C. Hughes, pastor of the church. The bridesmaids were Miss Marion McGeehan with Miss Ethel Pace, Mr. P. H. Haden with Miss Ethel Bagby, Mr. Robert Turner with Miss Nellie Davis, Mr. Carroll Davis with Miss Merle Ransom, Mr. John Harris with Miss Bessie Childress, Mr. Otto Mills with Miss Rosalie Jennings.

The bride was attended by her maid of honor, Miss Elsie Childe. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Charlie Mills, who was also best man.

The church was beautifully decorated. A large arch extended across the rostrum, from which was suspended a large bell, under which the ceremony was performed.

An elegant wedding supper was served at the home of the bride to a large number of invited guests.

Two presents were numerous and handsome. Among them was a silver service, given by the Company of Richmond, and their employees, with which house the groom was formerly connected.

The bride is a pretty blonde and disinterestedly related to the groom.

JANITOR EMERITUS

GONE TO HIS REWARD

The "Day Before Christmas"

Rendered at the Henry

Clay Inn.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ASHLAND, VA., Dec. 28.—Joseph Crawley, known to every Randolph-Macon student as "The Judge" for the past thirty-five years, died here Christmas Day. He was janitor of the college for more than three decades, under the administration of six different presidents. During the five years he was pensioned by the college with the title of "Janitor emeritus."

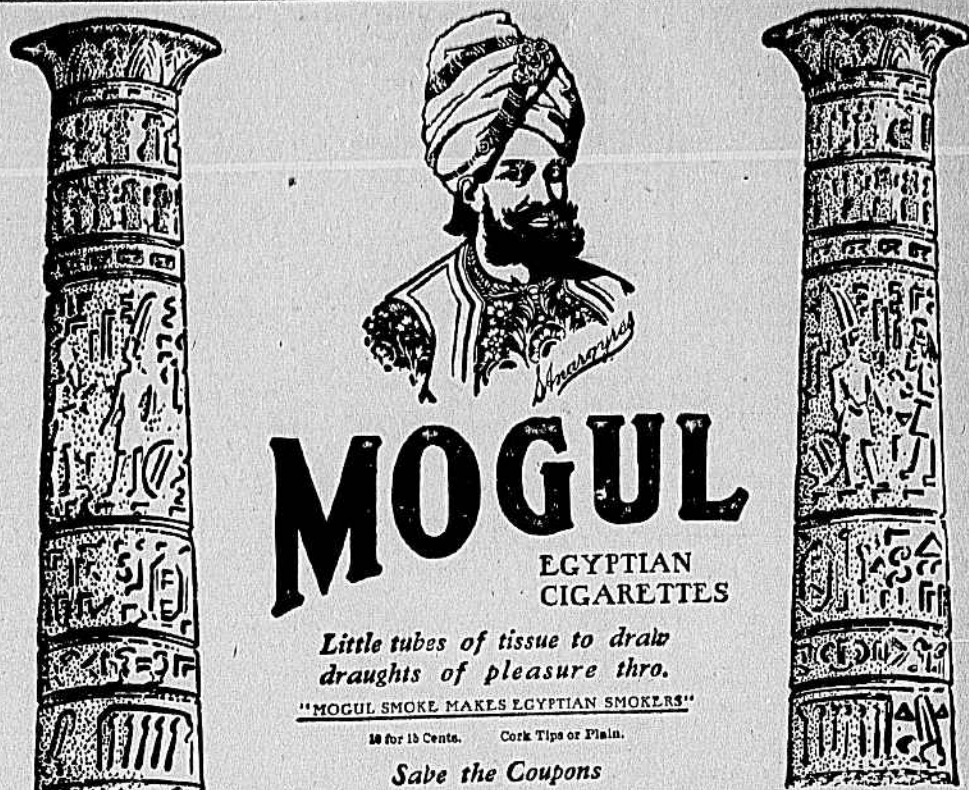

He served in the cavalry of the United States army prior to the Civil War, being on frontier duty against the Indians, and drew pension from the government for disabilities received in the service.

The "Day Before Christmas," an up-to-date Christmas play from the Ladies Home Journal, was rendered in beautiful manner on an improvised stage at the Henry Clay Inn on Thursday evening by children of the town and hotel.

President Blackwell, of the college, left Saturday for New Orleans to attend the meeting of the American Historical Society.

The following visitors are in Ashland for the holidays: R. F. Belme, Baltimore; R. C. Howison, Richmond, Va.; Miss Coker, South Carolina; Mrs. C. W. Coker, Bedford City; Rev. James Cannon, Blackstone; Miss Gramling, Woman's College, Lynchburg.

The guests of the Henry Clay Inn entertained on Saturday night a large number of specially invited guests. Among the present from Richmond were the following: C. W. Culp, Warren Taylor, R. A. Taylor, Wirt Taylor, Neal Baughman, George Smith, Walter Williams, Mr. Rogers and W. D. Duke.

LUMBER MILL IS DESTROYED

Three Million Feet of Dressed Lumber Goes Up in Smoke at Franklin, Va.

MUCH PROPERTY IS SAVED

Camp Lumber Company Heavy Losers Because of Interruption to Business.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FRANKLIN, VA., Dec. 28.—The large planing mill belonging to Camp Manufacturing Company, at this place, with three million feet of dressed lumber, was burned here to-day.

The fire started about 9:30 A. M., and is supposed to have caught from the ignition of oil on the main engine bed, caused by a drop of hot material being used to set some bolts on the engine.

Hose was turned on the fire immediately, and the automatic sprinklers worked perfectly, but the fire spread from one part to another, almost as if in a powder magazine, and in an incredibly short time was all over the mill, forcing the men employed therein out, and was entirely beyond control.

GOOD FIRE FIGHTING.

The company's fire apparatus and department did splendid work, but no fire department could have saved the building in which the fire started. They managed, however, to confine it to that building, and the sheds adjoining and saved the dry kilns, saw mill, big lumber sheds, and in fact, everything except the planing mill and sheds connected therewith, and the lumber in them.

The company estimates its total gross loss at about ninety-five thousand dollars so far as possible.

The biggest loss to the insured will be the consequent interference with their trade, but they are already giving orders for machinery and arranging to rebuild at once, and expect to be able to resume planing mill operations in a very short time.

WORK TO CONTINUE.

The saw mill and dry kilns will continue to manufacture and dry rough lumber without interruption. The company has two other planing mills, one at Arrington, in this county, and one at Lewis, in Dinwiddie county, and their dressed lumber trade will be supplied from them so far as possible.

While the loss to the company is regrettable they meet the situation without a quiver, and in their usual resourceful way, immediately set about recouping their loss.

THE INSURANCE.

The insurance is as follows: Phoenix of Brooklyn, $5,000; British America, $5,000; Home of New York, $30,000; Continental, $5,000; Commercial Union, $2,500; Fireman's, $2,000; Firemen's Fund, $1,000; Western, $5,000; Hamburg-Bremen, $2,500; Georgia Home, $5,000; Virginia, $5,000; National, $5,000; New York, $5,000; L. & G. $12,000; North British, $12,500; Northern, $12,500; Hanover, $7,000; Greenwich, $5,000; Manchester, $5,000; Scottish Union, $5,000; Norwich Union, $5,000; Virginia State, $2,500; total, $144,000.

The estimated loss is about forty-two per cent. of the above amount.
